Week in Review (4/10-4/14)

Character Word of the Month

This month we want all of our students to be INTENTIONAL with their actions when participating in their education. These actions are setting goals, being motivated, and holding themselves accountable as they succeed through the last two months of school.

Creating your Landscape...

Our 7th graders have been working on a month-long Impressionism project. After learning about the importance of the Impressionism to art history and how it was a direct result of historical events, students began to do their own study of natural light and expressive mark-making through Landscape Paintings using oil pastels. These projects are still in-progress!

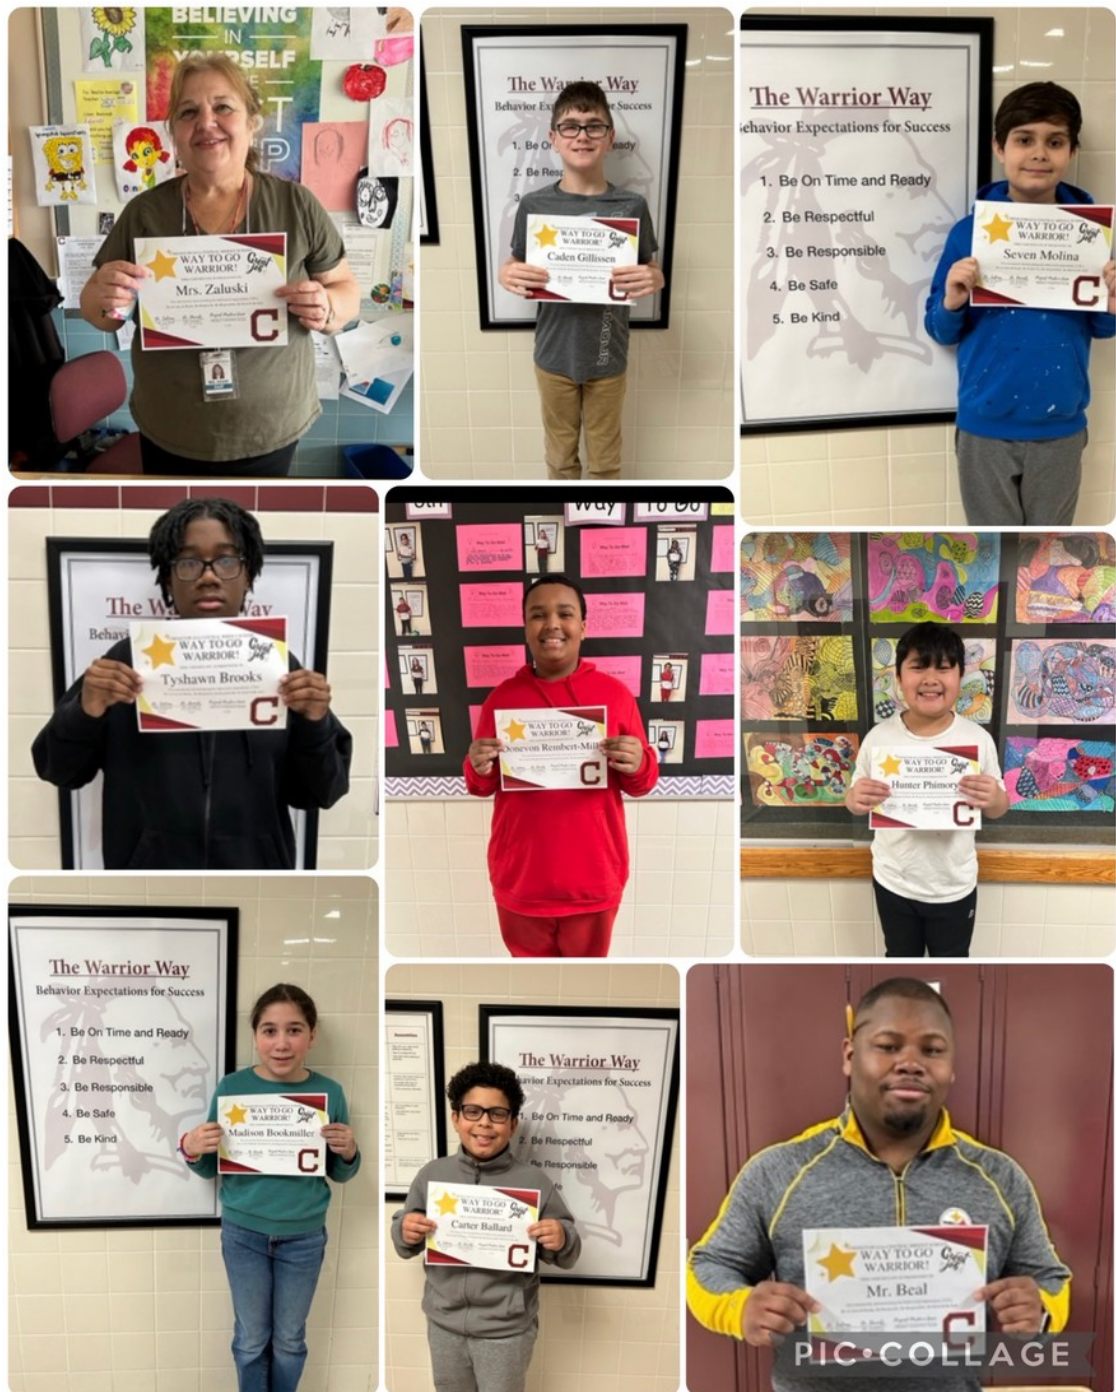

Happy Kindergarteners that got a book token for being responsible!

Caring for the Community...

On Tuesday, High School students volunteered at FeedMore where they worked together to box 2000lbs of food, which equates to 1066 meals. Way to go to our Warriors for serving our community one meal at a time!

Congratulations to our Way to go Warriors in the Middle School for the month of March!

Honoring our VIP Lunch recipients for Character Education and Project Positive Students of the Month in the Middle School!

The ☀️ is Shining...

UPK Gross Motor took advantage of the beautiful weather this week! We took our Trikes out with us to the playground and took turns on slides and riding. On Tuesday we went to the track and ran laps. In the middle of the week, we took various balls to the grass fields and tried out our kicking and catching. Finally, we went to the turf baseball field and rolled down the pitcher's mound and ran the base. It was great being outdoors again!

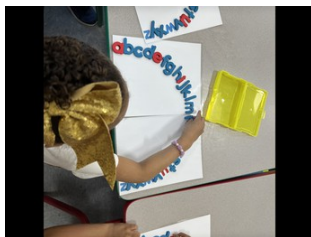

Historical Moments...

Eighth grade students were able to attend the 18th annual Washington DC trip on March 29-31. The 8th graders were able to tour the DC monuments, pay their respects at Arlington National Cemetery, and took a tour of the Capitol Building, including getting gallery passes, courtesy of Senator Charles Schumer's office, to watch a debate on the Senate floor. The students were able to tour the battlefield of Gettysburg on their way home. It was an amazing learning experience in our nation's capital.

Working hard in the after school Boost program!

Bridging the Gap...

One of our 8th grade middle school students is shown building a bridge for testing during technology class.

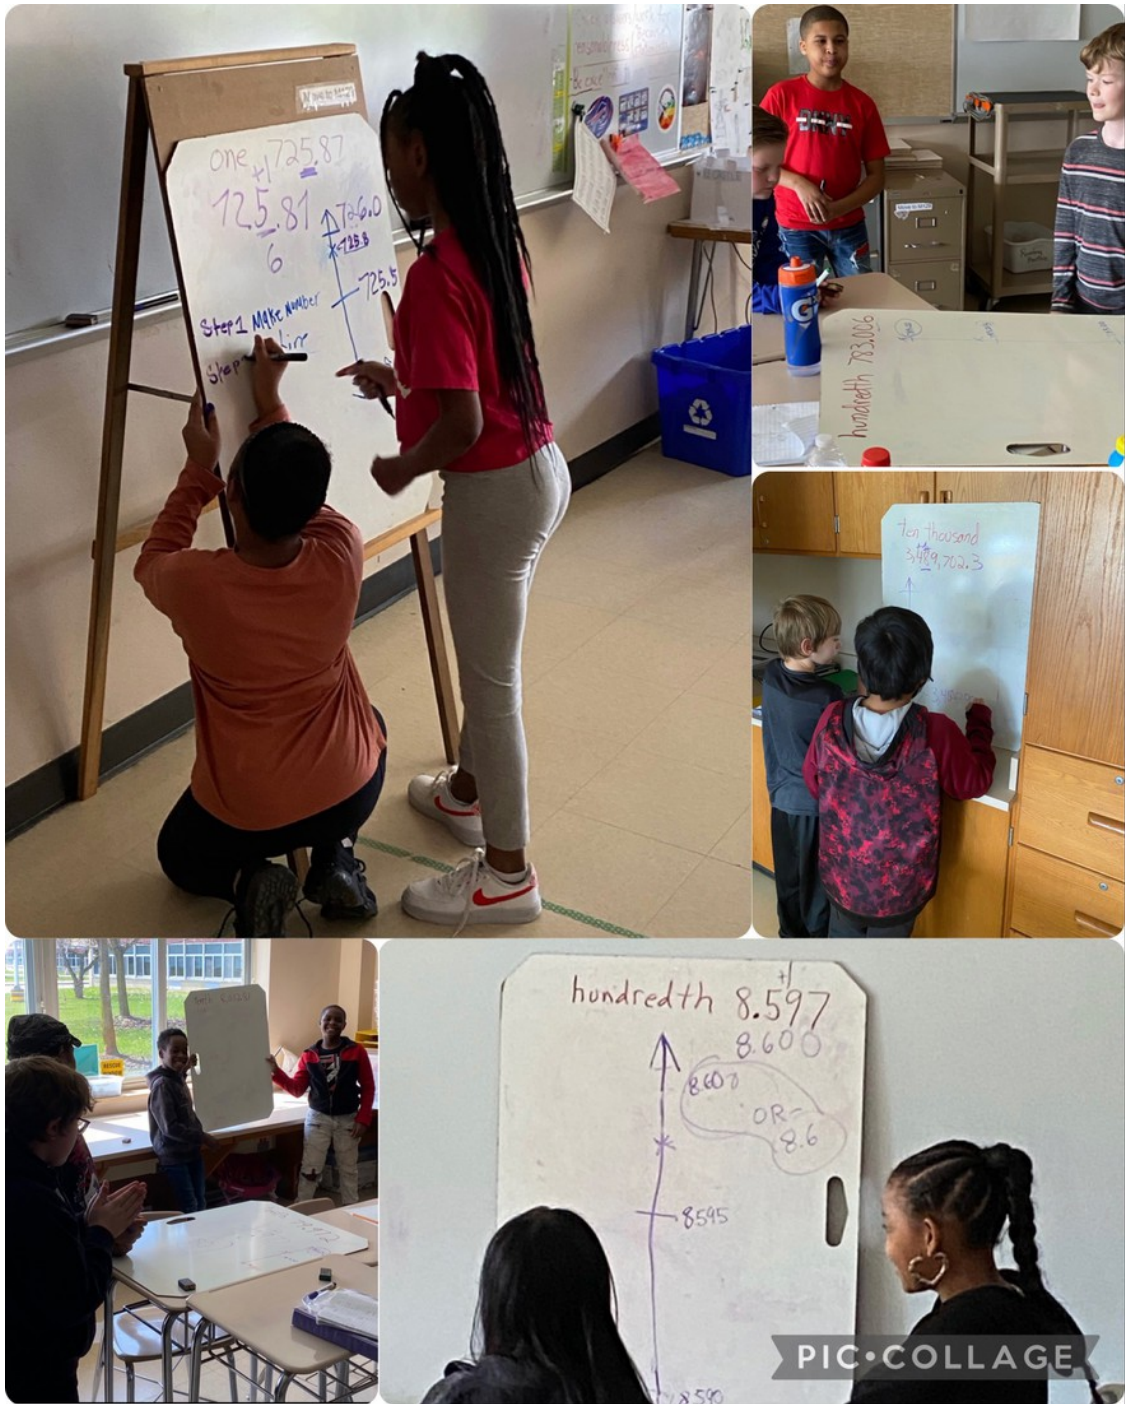

All Jazz'd Up...

Our First Annual Jazz Night was a huge success for our middle school and high school jazz bands and high school chorale. All students did a fantastic job going above and beyond with their love of music at CCSD!

Round and Round We Go...

Mr. Wasner's math classes learned a new strategy for rounding numbers with decimals. They learned the strategy in the morning, and then solved a practice problem with a partner and shared out with the whole class that same afternoon. Way to rock it Warriors!

Saving the Day...

High School student, Olivia Fallacaro and High School Science Teacher, Ms. Lorenz, rescued a lost puppy on school property this week. Cheektowaga Animal Control was called to keep the dog safe and happy. :)

Looking into next week...

April 15th- Cheektowaga Central School District Job Fair

April 18th- Board of Education Meeting at 6:00pm in the Raymond Carr Room

►► Social Media Safety Presentation

►► April 19, 2023 at 6 p.m.

Officer Andrew Nati, Cheektowaga Police Department

It is important for parents to understand the potential issues and safety concerns that come along with modern technology. This presentation will appeal to the tech savvy parent, the parent who is technology-illiterate, and everyone in between.

Parents will also learn specific information just for them, including:

- best practices on keeping their kids safe online
- techniques on how to talk to their kids about technology
- avoid getting overwhelmed while staying relevant in the ever-changing world of "apps"
- popular apps and what they need to worry about
- helpful tools on how to monitor their child on social networks
- resources for security settings on different apps
- texting lingo parents need to know

HAVE A GREAT WEEKEND!
