The American Academy of Pediatrics, our local cardiologists and pediatricians have collaborated to create a Covid-19 Interim Guidance for Return to PE and Sports for children who have tested positive for the covid infection.

For the safety of every school aged child it is now necessary to have an in person evaluation with the child's private physician after their isolation has been completed. Attached is a paper you will need for that evaluation. The attached form must be completed by your child's physician. Your pediatrician can clear your child at that appointment or may refer him/her for more testing and possibly to see a cardiologist.

This is a new directive but it will include all children who have ever tested positive for Covid and did not receive clearance even if they have been exercising post infection.

After the initial clearance a return to play protocol will begin. It should last at least 7 days. The student must be symptom free in the stage they are in before advancing to the next stage. It is outlined at the bottom of the attached form: Assessment/Return to Play.

Post infection your child will not be able to participate in PE or sports until the evaluation form has been returned to the school nurse and the return to play protocol has been satisfied.
